Al-Mabhouh enters the lift with a member of hotel staff. Two Mossad agents follow disguised in tennis outfits

All four take a taxi to their hotel. Folliard grins at the desk clerk as she checks in. As the hours and minutes to murder tick away, she is seen flouncing around a luxury shopping mall, apparently without a care in the world, and returning to the hotel laden with carrier bags.

She even smiles flirtatiously and tosses her brown pony-tail towards her co-assassins before she dons a wig and reappears with her hair in a thick, centre-parted bob.

Throughout the afternoon, the others fly in. Technical surveillance has shown that they never made direct phone calls to one another. Instead they dialled into a communications centre based in Austria using highly encrypted cyphers.

The task of the first wave is surveillance, and they change their appearance accordingly. When next we see Kevin Daveron, for example, he, too, is wearing a thickly-quiffed wig and is completely unrecognisable from the bald, stubbled man we saw before.

At 3.20pm we get the first glimpse of the victim as he goes through customs. Members of the surveillance team trail him from the airport to the Al-Bustan Rotana Hotel.

The victim is shown to his room by the hotel staff member, apparently unaware he is still

I work on the VIDI-project Logics for Intelligent Interaction: Expressivity and Succinctness funded by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research (NWO)

The project focusses on one of the prominent themes in logic today: intelligent interaction. Which occurs in any social situation. There is a multitude of logical theories in this area to such an extent that for one and the same subject there is more than one approach. There is a great need to establish whether alternative approaches actually provide fundamentally different perspectives, or whether the differences are merely superficial. By focusing on the expressivity and succinctness of these logics, possible differences in their underlying conceptual frameworks are revealed, thus advancing our understanding of these conceptual frameworks and thereby of intelligent interaction itself.

From 2006 to 2009 I worked on the VENI-project Developing dynamic epistemic logic guided by old paradoxes and new techniques

Teaching

I am currently professor by special appointment on the chair of Logic and Argumentation established by the Stichting Groninger Universiteitsfonds at the Department of Theoretical Philosophy at the University of Groningen. I studied philosophy in Groningen and did my master's thesis on the so-called Monty Hall Dilemma under the supervision of Erik Krabbe and Rineke Verbrugge. This led to a PhD project in the computer science department in Groningen under the supervision of Gerard Renardel and Rineke Verbrugge. I finished my dissertation on probabilistic dynamic epistemic logic in 2003. After my PhD I worked as a postdoc at the Department of Philosophy on further topics within dynamic epistemic logic and related subjects. From 2006 to 2009 I worked on my NWO VENI project and starting in 2010 on my NWO VIDI project. In november 2011 I was appointed as a full professor on the special chair in Logic and Argumentation.

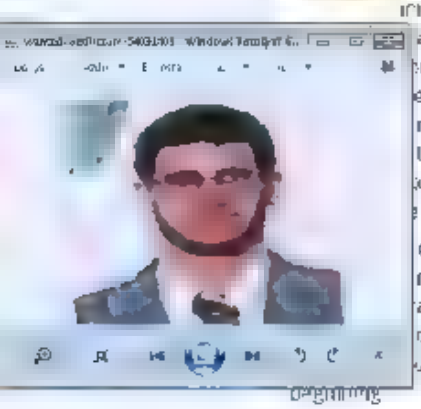
Ben Rodenhäuser (Germany)

MSc Logic 2000-2001

When I read the brochure of the logic programme before I applied here, I was impressed by the remark of one of the students, who wrote that the logic programme was situated "in a country with maybe the highest density of logicians in the world". I imagined the Mecca I would be to live in a city where there is always the possibility of bumping into a logician in the next bar. Although (at least outside of the ILLC buildings) it is not quite like this, the logic programme and Amsterdam exceeded all my expectations of finding an ideal environment for delving deeper into the links between logic, language and computation, while meeting people from all over the world at the same time. There is great freedom which courses to choose from an impressive range of offerings. For me as a linguist with some logical background, which is something you need here – the optional choice was a mathematical logic courses to strengthen my formal skills and exciting excursions into the dynamics of discourse and information exchange; but the logic programme can basically fit anyone's needs. And what is maybe the most important thing: studying in Amsterdam is not only an intellectually demanding thing – it's fun as well!



Beginning

As an exchange student it was a great experience to benefit from the friendly, efficient and helpful people at the university - both staff and students. The International Student Network takes care of the social life of the arriving students: already in the first week in Amsterdam I had the opportunity to get to know my fellow students. I was assigned a student mentor and the ILLC found me a room; in the second week I had an appointment with my study advisor to discuss my course schedule for the coming year. The friendly and international atmosphere among the students did the best to make me feel comfortable from the

Ben Rodenhauser is a PhD researcher at the ILLC in Amsterdam, working under the supervision of Johan van Benthem, Sonja Smets, Frank Veltman, and Rineke Verbrugge. He received his Master of Science degree in Logic at the ILLC, and did his undergraduate studies at the University of Tübingen in Linguistics, Philosophy and Computer Science. His research interests include Dynamic Epistemic Logic and Belief Revision Theory, Formal Semantics and Pragmatics, Epistemology, and Action Theory

Job title(s): Senior Lecturer (Assistant Professor)

Other positions: Member of the COST Action 'Transforming Audiences, Transforming Societies'; the Research School for Media Studies (RMeS); the International Communication Association (ICA); the European Communication Research and Education Association (ECREA); and the Groningen Research Institute for the Study of Culture (ICOG)

Prior to my appointment as Assistant Professor of Journalism Studies and Media in August 2008, I lived in the cultural cultures of central Canada. My MA and PhD, both in sociology, were undertaken at Carleton University in Ottawa.

My eclectic academic background also saw me study journalism at Carleton University after completing a commerce degree from Queen's University. Outside my working life, I'm an avid traveller. Be it Cape Town or Kampala, Marseille or Managua, Helsinki or Hanoi, there's nothing quite like feeling out of place.

Samenvatting van Chris Peters

In August 2008 I was appointed Lecturer (Assistant Professor - US academic rank) at the Centre for Media and Journalism Studies at the University of Groningen. I was promoted to Senior Lecturer when the position was made permanent (i.e. tenured) in December 2009. The position involves lecturing, conducting research, grant applications, and supervision of Master's level students. My PhD in sociology focused on media studies, considering how emerging forms of broadcast journalism challenge what we 'think of' and how we 'experience' news. I am currently building upon this focus to see how the public spaces of news consumption and the role perceptions of journalists are also shifting.

Specialties: Media and journalism studies, with a broad awareness of sociology and communications theory

Monika Schmid appointed Professor of English Language and Linguistics

Date: September 06, 2010

Dr Monika S. Schmid (Stuttgart, 1967) has been appointed Professor of English Language and Linguistics at the Faculty of Arts. This position follows her appointment as Rosalind Franklin Fellow (2007). Monika Schmid has established several projects in the area of language loss and language development. For her research she has received four NWO grants, most recently the award of a Vici subsidy and a programme in the Vrije Competitie for the arts and humanities.

Bilingualism and bilingual development

Monika Schmid specialises in research on contemporary English, especially the acquisition of English as a second language. In her work she takes a broad international perspective on English as a contact language in the global context. In particular, her research focusses on all aspects of the development of bilingualism, particularly the acquisition of a foreign language and the loss of a first language among immigrants.

Language loss and language attrition

Monika Schmid is one of the leading international researchers in the area of first language loss among migrants. Language attrition, the work on the changing proficiency in a first language is internationally acknowledged. Monika has received a number of grants for her research, among them a Veni grant for a quantitative study of German spoken by German migrants in the Netherlands and Canada. Earlier this year she was awarded a Vici subsidy for an investigation into the influence of age on the development of bilingualism.

Age and bilingual development

Over the coming years Monika plans to investigate questions relating to the importance of the age at which a second language is learned. It has long been assumed that age is an important factor in

Spreekuur voor het onderzoekscollege: woensdag van15-16, kamer 379

Dr. Huub Wijfjes (Delft, 1956) studeerde tot 1980 geschiedenis in Leiden en werkte daarna als historicus en journalist. In 1988 promoveerde hij op een proefschrift over radiocensuur: Radio onder restrictie. Overheidsbemoeiing met radioprogramma's, 1919-1941 (Amsterdam: Stichting Beheer IISG). Van 1991 tot 1994 was hij coördinator van de Postdoctorale Opleiding Journalistiek van de Erasmus Universiteit. Sinds februari 1995 is hij als onderzoeker en docent verbonden aan de sectie Journalistiek bij het Instituut voor Geschiedenis van de Rijksuniversiteit Groningen. Hier zette hij onder andere het programma van de Postdoctorale Opleiding Radio- en Televisiejournalistiek op.

Hij schreef boeken, artikelen en columns op het gebied van (sociale) geschiedenis, media, journalistiek, archieven en technologie. In 1989 richtte hij met andere redacteuren het Jaarboek Mediageschiedenis op, dat in 1997 werd omgezet in Tijdschrift voor Mediageschiedenis. In 1994 was hij samensteller en mede-auteur van een groot overzichtswerk van de Nederlandse omroepgeschiedenis: Omroep in Nederland, 75 Jaar medium en maatschappij, 1919-1994 (Zwolle: Waanders 1994). In 1996 schreef hij samen met anderen het jubileumboek van de IKON: Van geloof, hoop en liefde (Kampen: Kok). In 1998 schreef hij het jubileumboek: Het Stanislas. School- en jeugdcultuur op een katholiek college te Delft, 1948-1998 (Delft: Eburon Publishers 1998).

Hij schrijft regelmatig artikelen, beschouwingen en boekbesprekingen voor de Volkskrant, De Journalist, Historisch Nieuwsblad en het Tijdschrift voor Mediageschiedenis. Momenteel werkt hij aan een omvangrijk boek over de geschiedenis van de Nederlandse journalistieke cultuur, dat in 2004 zal verschijnen ter gelegenheid van 125 jaar georganiseerde journalistiek in Nederland. In het kader van dit onderzoek was hij mede-organisator van het congres 'Journalistieke cultuur in de twintigste eeuw' (Amsterdam 28-29 juni 2001).

Enkele recente publicaties zijn:

Dat concentreert zich vooral op de ontwikkeling van de journalistieke cultuur in 250 jaar en de veranderende rol van de krant in de (Friese) samenleving.

In 1999 publiceerde hij in het Tijdschrift voor Mediageschiedenis 'Belsende stijlen. De Eerste Wereldoorlog en de Nederlandse journalistieke cultuur'. Binnenkort verschijnt in BMGN 'De hand van Romme. C.P.M. Romme als staatkundig hoofdredacteur van de Volkskrant (1945-1952)'. I am a historian, specialized in Media History. I am professor in History of Radio and Television at Amsterdam University. Since 1995 I am associate professor and researcher at the master programm in Journalism of the Faculty of Arts, University of Groningen in The Netherlands. This university was founded in 1614, the Journalism program in 1991.

My main interests are Journalism, Broadcasting and Media History. I've written extensively on these topics, especially in relation to political culture. Since 2005 I am a board member of The Kossmann Institute for Political Culture.

My latest research project is on the position of Editors In Chief in modern journalism. I also worked on a huge project concerning the history of the public broadcasting association VARA. This organisation was founded in 1925 and still is one of the leading broadcasters in the Dutch Public Broadcasting system. In september 2009 I published a book and a full swing multimedia historical website.

I studied History at Leiden University, the oldest university in The Netherlands (since 1574).

Huub Wijfjes, mediahistoricus en journalistiekdocent bij de RUG en straks geschiedschrijver van de VARA, heeft sinds dinsdag een weblog. De journalistieke pretenties van sommige webloggers vindt hij maar niets, en volgens hem staat het Dagblad van het Noorden een volkomen verkeerde koers in.

In zijn openingsstukje haalt Wijfjes meteen al uit naar de webloggers die menen "dat ze de nieuwe journalistiek aan het maken zijn". "Ik ben zo vrij dat een misverstand te vinden" verklaart Wijfjes. "Het meeste en meest geconsumeerde nieuws (...) wordt nog gewoon gemaakt door de traditionele journalistiek." En: "De meeste bloggers zijn maar met een flintertje van het rijke palet der journalistiek bezig, voornamelijk met het becommentariÄren van nieuws dat door ouderwetse journalisten de wereld in geholpen is." De internet-nieuwtjes die de bloggers zelf genereren acht hij "zeker niet representatief voor wat er in de wereld gebeurt".

"Het geschreeuw op de vele weblogs en internetsites" aldus de journalistiekdocent "verbloemt een veelal schrijnende overdaad aan geestelijke armoede. Het verbloemt ook blindheid voor wat er in het

He was the first one who left the crime scene in Dubai and took the airplane to Europe.
I personaly think that this man was the big boss and the leader of the team who gave them the instructions.

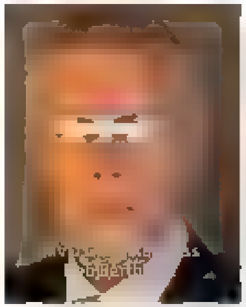
AIVD-chef Rob B. mag niet naar Kamer van 'PvdA Fatsoenrakker Ronald Plasterk'.

(van onze Tweede Kamer Kroeg redactie)



Amsterdam Noir. De SP is terecht boos op PvdA Minister 'Grachtengordel-Fatsoenrakker Ronald Plasterk' van Binnenlandse [illegible] Zaken, omdat die de [illegible] AIVD-Baas Rob Bertholee [illegible] verboden om te verschijnen voor een hoorzitting in de Tweede Kamer Kroeg en ing. S.K.A. Brown uitzagen te geven in zijn reeds 25 jaar oude AIVD-dossier.

SP Tweede Kamerlid Ronald van Raak noemde het besluit dinsdag onaanvaardbaar en extreem onfatsoenlijk.
Op initiatief van de SP houdt de Kamer op 11 september een geheel-hoorzitting over de bezuinigingen bij de inlichtingendienst. De AIVD moet vanaf volgend jaar gaan bezuinigen en het vermoeden bestaat dat de AIVD zijn inkomens gaat aanvullen met het chanteren van (Pedo)-Politici en leden van het Koninklijk huis.

EC representative: Latvia has good government e-service level

LETA

April 6, 2011

Paul Timmers

The level of the state administration e-service development in Latvia is sufficient and exceeds the average one in the European Union (EU), says Paul Timmers, the acting director of the European Commission's (EC) Information Society and Media Directorate-General (Directorate H), who is in charge of information and communication technology use in social problem solving.

The coefficient for fully available online services in Latvia makes up 93%. It already surpasses the average number in the EU – 82%. In the study the sophistication of e-services provided for the people in Latvia hits 94% while of services for business 100%. Timmers indicates in an interview to the business portal Nozare.lv, when referring to the EC's research. The e-service sophistication is a somewhat subjective measure used in these studies.

Timmers explains e-services in Latvia have evolved along with their spread in other EU administrations and business development, with specialities in public administrations. He has a wide experience on project management and practical implementation on using ICT to modernise and re-engineer public administrations. He has been coordinator and regional project manager in many European projects (IST, EU R&D, Interreg, eContent)

Mr. Paul Timmers, Head of Unit H 3 ICT for Inclusion, Brussels. Include all by Internet! Europe has an active digital inclusion policy that has much evolved over the past years, as part of the i2010 information society agenda. From the Riga Declaration for e-inclusion in 2006 until today much attention has been paid to issues such as digital literacy, web accessibility, and independent living of elderly and disabled person. Paul Timmers summarize achievements – and gaps! – in these areas and also highlight work in some less known areas such as migrants and ICT. He will then provide some reflections on future steps to realise the Riga e-inclusion objectives for 2010 and to go beyond them in order to prevent new digital divides opening up as the Internet and the information society evolve.

Rubin: U.S. Must Confront Warlords, Deal with Taliban

Barnett Rubin, a leading specialist on Afghanistan and the author of several books on that country, criticizes what he sees as the Bush administration's insistence on using its 17,000 troops in Afghanistan to fight a "war we cannot win" against the Taliban. Instead, he says, the United States should combine those troops with the NATO force of 6,500 to enhance nationwide stability.

Rubin, formerly the director of the Center for Preventive Action at the Council on Foreign Relations and now director of studies at New York University's Center on International Cooperation, says that overall, "The question is whether the glass is one-tenth full or nine-tenths empty. We have a long way to go in Afghanistan." He was interviewed on July 14, 2004, by Bernard Gwertzman, consulting editor for cfr.org.

Afghan President Hamid Karzai, in an interview published in the July 12 New York Times, said he was more worried about the Afghan militias than he was about the Taliban. Is the glass in Afghanistan half full or half empty?
